BAMBOO CONTEMPORARY

One Plus Partnership's latest project has been awarded Best of the Year in the Public Space category at Interior Design magazine's annual Awards in New York. Based in Hong Kong, the firm was awarded for their innovative design of a lobby located in the Gemdale Mellon Town project in Shenzhen, China. The entire area is flooded in an intense lime green, including the walls and ceiling, creating a surreal environment within the mixed-use complex. Residents' mailboxes in the same green form a playful forest of towering metal rods like clusters of bamboo. Tall rod-like light sources continue the bamboo theme, while the scored concrete flooring embedded with rounds of stainless steel imitates the look of a bamboo forest from above. "As we all know, bamboo is a renowned Chinese icon and a symbol of Chinese culture," says Interior Design Editor-in-Chief Cindy Allen. "One Plus Partnership's project is the best mail room we have ever seen." [Text: AM]
